

Introduction

This module aims to bring everyone studying the Mathematics course to the same baseline knowledge to start the full degree. Everything in this module is extremely important for the other modules throughout the first year of university and beyond; they are the fundamentals, if you will.

Mastery of this module is required to succeed in and understand mathematics.